

Technical Requirements

Web Photography

Member:

Clark Inocalla

clark.inocalla@hotmail.com

www.cinocalla.com

Technical Requirements

The technical requirements in this documentation are based on the tools, devices, and procedures needed for good software development.

Responsive Web Design

The web application will be responsive to user's devices. The goal is for the website to look good in any type of screen size. Responsive design will lead to a great user experience.

NodeMailer

A tool that will be used for users to send an email.

Other tools/technologies

A choice of different development tools such as automated testing tool, code formatter, revision control, unit testing, integration testing, system testing, that allows the developer to maintain the workflow and optimize results.